Looking back—and looking forward!

July 1, 2009: My first day as RSVP Director! I’ve met so many wonderful people since that day when I started. I remember being overwhelmed by the amount of rules and regulations RSVP is required to follow. Each evening I would take home manuals and read through it and highlight more information I needed to act on.

But you—the volunteers have been the busy ones! From July 1, 2009 to December 31, 2018 you (all 500 of you) served 270,516 hours at 80 volunteer sites at 255 different jobs. Together your hours added up to a savings of $6,679,040 to those 80 locations! YOU ARE AWESOME!

Thank you for the privilege of serving as your RSVP Director.

FTC Warning on Latest Social Security Scam

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has issued a new warning regarding scams involving your Social Security number. These using computers to make the Social Security Administration’s (SSA) phone number (1-800-772-1213) appear on your phone, but it is not real.

In one version, the caller says your Social Security number has been linked to a crime involving drugs or illegally sending money out of the country. The caller claims that your Social Security number is blocked but that they can reactivate it for you or get you a new number. They will ask you to confirm your Social Security number.

In other variations, the caller says that somebody used your Social Security number to apply for credit cards, and you could lose your benefits. Or, the caller might warn you that your bank account is about to be seized, and you need to withdraw your money. They will also offer to tell you how to keep it safe.

Keep in mind that SSA will NEVER EVER call and ask for your social security number. It won’t call to threaten your benefits. Never give your Social Security number to anyone who contacts you. Don’t confirm the last four digits, and don’t give a bank account or credit card number—EVER—to anybody who contacts you asking for it.

If you made the call to the agency yourself, you are okay to confirm information. If you are worried about a call from someone who claims to be from SSA, hang up. Then call the real SSA at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) Don’t worry about being rude. An actual SSA employee would understand your caution.
